Bill Re-enacting Clause 13 of the Land Bill Read a Second Time.

Turkey Withholds Promised Armenian Reforms—The Peace of Europe Threatened.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—In the House of Commons to-day the bill re-enacting clause 13 of the land bill was read a second time.
The Garrick theatre was crowded with a representative audience to-night upon the occasion of the first production in London of “Alabama,” by Augustus Thomas. The play was produced under the direction of F. S. Willard and was well received throughout. Mr. Willard received an ovation when he made his first appearance for the evening on the stage, and after each act there were repeated recalls. Miss Marion Terry and Jack Mason were received with special favor. Upon the fall of the curtain there were loud calls for the author and for a speech, which met with a noisy opposition from a small portion of the gallery. Mr. Willard finally advanced to the front of the curtain and said: “The author is three thousand miles away and is doubtless anxiously awaiting your verdict. What shall I tell him?” This was met with loud applause, mingled with a few hisses.
Justin McCarthy, M.P., leader of the Home Rule party, has issued a manifesto denouncing the nomination of the Healyite candidate for parliament in Kerry, in opposition to the McCarthyite candidate, which is causing much sensation in the lobby of the House of Commons. Mr. McCarthy says the course of the Healyites is to incite treason and revolt. The manifesto was issued without consultation with other members of the Home Rule party or with the consultative committee. It is thought that Mr. John Dillon and T. P. O'Connor alone were consulted by McCarthy.
The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that one of the most respected members of the Irish Home Rule party, who has not been mixed up with any of the party's personal disputes, says the McCarthy manifesto looks like the final breaking up of the party.
In a leading article the Globe expresses the opinion that the German celebrations endanger the peace of Europe. The tone of the Berlin papers, says the Globe, has been offensive, and such as to needlessly wound the feelings of the French people. The Emperor, the Globe further says, has allowed himself on more than one occasion recently to use language which is at least capable of being misunderstood. While the Globe does not believe the Emperor desires war, his utterances, it is said, are assuredly not such as to further the cause of peace.
The Speaker says: “During the week ending Wednesday the Bank of England received £1,000,000 sterling in gold, and it is known further sums are en route. Silver is rising like exchange, and it is being bought largely for India, China and Japan, and though the advance is not great there must be a further rise if the demand from the East continues.”
The Westminster Gazette claims to have received details of great inhumanity on the part of the Turkish officials at Sassoun, who are said to be preventing the distribution of relief to the starving Armenians. It is added that the number of deaths among the latter is increasing daily, and it is claimed to be the deliberate policy of the Turkish government to exterminate the remaining refugees by starving them.
Mrs. Butler, an American lady, who was married Wednesday last by special license to Lord Marcus Beresford, brother of Lord William Beresford, husband of the lady who was Duchess of Marlborough, and who was previously Mrs. Louis Hamersley, of New York, has a picturesque ivy-clad retreat at Englefield Green, on the border of Windsor park, where she pursues the hobby of cat breeding. She has a regular establishment for cats, and possesses Persian feline sires of long pedigree.
The promised imperial decree proclaiming general reforms throughout the Turkish Empire did not appear yesterday, the anniversary of the Sultan's accession, as was expected. The ambassadors of the powers are now insisting upon the appointment of a mixed committee of control.
The column of General Canaleto routed the band headed by Maceo to the south of Roman Las Yaguas, on Saturday. The insurgents were very much outnumbered by the Spaniards and they were driven from their positions and encampment, leaving 30 killed and 80 wounded. The Spaniards lost one officer and twelve soldiers killed, and nine officers and thirty-nine soldiers wounded.
The latest news from Explorer Nansen is a letter received by his brother, Mr. Alexander Nansen, of Christiania. The letter is dated July 17, 1893, and in it the explorer says that he does not expect to be home again in less than three or four, or possibly five years.
Christine Nilsson went to Sweden recently to attend the wedding of a nephew, which occurred in the little village near which she was born. The young man will eventually inherit the farm on which the celebrated singer first saw the light of day.
In a long letter which is published in the Times to-day Mr. Carnegie urges that paper to exert its influence to bring about a pacific solution of the Irish question. Such a course, he says, would probably command support in Canada, Australia and all the large cities populated by our race abroad. Mr. Carnegie then says the language of the call for a convention of Irish-Americans at Chicago shows the despair and disappointment of the men. He also sees in advent of the Conservative party in Great Britain to power fair hope for justice to Ireland. The letter concludes: “This question is not only a British one, but an American one as well, and causes its beneficial influence to be felt over the politics of both countries.”
Pillsbury, the American player, won the game to-day with Guneberg in the international chess tournament and takes first prize.

SEDAN DAY.

Germany Celebrates the Decisive Event in the Bloody War With France.

The United Fatherland's Enthusiastic Demonstration of Loyalty to the Hohenzollerns.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—At the celebration yesterday of the battle of Sedan Prince Leopold, second son of Luitpold, prince regent of Bavaria, delivered a speech, in the course of which he thanked his hearers in the name of his father for the patriotism which they had evinced. Prince Leopold said that in every town and village throughout the empire German hearts were filled with joy at the remembrance of the great and memorable period in the history of the nation which was concluded on the battlefield of Sedan. This celebration, the Prince continued, was unparalleled in the military history of Germany. If God so willed it, he said, the army would again, as it was a quarter of a century ago, be prepared to wage war until the last breath in the combat of life and death against any who dare lay hands upon the most sacred possessions of the fatherland.
The Prince expressed his pleasure at seeing the Americans. A short time afterwards, when the Emperor was riding past the veterans, a member of a Berlin committee called for cheers for the Emperor, who, gratified at the exhibition of friendliness, returned his thanks. Many officers of high rank saluted the Americans. Several Chicago veterans, who had just arrived in Berlin, joined the procession to-day. The veterans will witness the tattoo from the castle terrace this afternoon. The Emperor and Empress were enthusiastically cheered along the route from the palace to the parade grounds. After saluting the Americans, the Emperor and Empress reviewed the entire bodyguard, and at the conclusion the Emperor took his place at the head of the colors and led the regiments back to the city. He was received with enthusiastic ovations along the entire route, which was thronged with people who pelted him with flowers. The review was attended by the Emperor's four sons, the Kings of Saxony and Wurtemberg, the Grand Duchess of Baden and many others of princely rank. The Emperor William has received large numbers of telegrams of felicitation from abroad, and especially from clubs of German veterans.
A gala performance was given in the royal opera last (Sunday) evening, including a ball as a military composition, twenty-five years ago to greet Emperor William on his return from the war, and the patriotic drama “1812” will be performed at the Schauspielhaus, by order of the Emperor. The Berlin turner societies had arranged a series of games and popular sports during the afternoon at the Templehof field. Not only the Protestant but the Catholic churches had special Sedan day services.
Emperor William was said early to-day and inaugurated the second day of the festivities in connection with the celebration of the battle of Sedan by personally decorating with branches of oak leaves four corps standards. The first regiment of guards was drawn up in front of the castle to witness the ceremony. At 8:30 o'clock the Emperor set out for the parade grounds to review the German-American veterans. The weather was beautiful and the city had put on its gayest attire. Crowds thronged the streets which were most elaborately decorated with flags and bunting. The parade on the Templehof field was an unusually brilliant display of troops, and the Kings of Saxony and Wurtemberg were present. The veterans were out in strong force, and a line of 31,000 school children with banners were drawn up near the Schloss, which the Emperor passed on returning to town with his retinue of colors, banners, etc.
The dedication of the Emperor William memorial church was a very impressive ceremony. The Emperor and Empress arrived at the spot at 10 o'clock, escorted by a detachment of cuirassiers of the guard, and were handed the golden key of the church by a deputation when their majesties reached the inside of the building. Hymns were sung and a patriotic sermon preached. A cordon of troops and veterans, including the German-American veterans who are visiting this city, surrounded the church and were reviewed by the Emperor. Upon the occasion of the imperial manoeuvres from September 5 to September 12, at which Emperor William, Emperor Francis Joseph, the King of Saxony and the Prince of Naples will be present the French officers will not appear and the French ambassador at Berlin, M. Herve, will leave the city during the Sedan fete.

The Reichsanzeiger announces that the Emperor William early this morning telegraphed to Prince Bismarck as follows: “To-day when the whole of Germany is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the historic capture of Sedan, I feel impelled to assure Your Highness that I shall always think with deep gratitude of the services which during that great time you rendered my grandfather, the Fatherland and the German cause.”
Prince Bismarck telegraphed the following reply: “I lay at the foot of Your Majesty's respectful thanks for the gracious telegraphic greeting of this day, and for Your Majesty's recognition of my co-operation in the national work of the late Emperor William.”
The Emperor drove through the streets late at night to see the illuminations, and was heartily received. From all quarters of the empire telegrams announce that the day was joyously celebrated. At Hanover the veterans' club made a pilgrimage to the military cemetery and adorned the graves of the German and French soldiers of 1870 with wreaths, and laid a special wreath on the monument to the French soldiers.
At Hamburg the Socialists attempted to disturb the fete by circulating thousands of pamphlets denouncing the national festival, but apparently without result.
The Emperor, upon the occasion of a recent review of troops at Mayence, is reported to have said to his officers: “Do not forget that we must be strong in order to maintain peace, and the stronger we are the more respect others will have for us.”

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

The Oxford Cambridge Men Handsomely Defeat the All New York Team.

Some Big Scores by the Strangers—A Grand Exhibition of the Game.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Over 2,500 people crowded the picturesque grounds of the Staten Island Cricket Club to-day to witness the international cricket match between the Oxford-Cambridge representatives and the All-New York team. Captain Macnutt won the toss for the All-New York team and sent his men to the bat. The batting order was as follows: All-New York—C. Byers, A. E. Patterson, Tyers, M. R. Cobb, Lohman, R. T. Rokeby, J. Mart, F. F. Kelly, Howard Macnutt, J. L. Pool, J. Colder, J. Rose. The English team was made up of—Captain F. Mitchell, V. T. Hill, H. A. Arkwright, N. F. Bruce, W. Mortimer, F. A. Phillips, J. C. Hartley, W. F. Milligan, C. E. M. Wilson, W. W. Lowe, C. B. Robinson, K. A. Studd. Play began at 11:40 with Byers and Patterson at the bat and Milligan and Hartley bowling. The batting of the New Yorks was slow, while the fielding of the team was sharp and snappy. At sixteen overs Patterson had 13 runs and Byers 14, with two byes. Byers made several excellent hits. Patterson was caught out by Wilson, the first wicket falling at 12:30 with a score of 52 runs. The second wicket fell when Byers was stumped out by Robinson. He had 32 runs to his credit and the score was sixty-four. Cobb, the New Jersey, crack was next at the wickets. He led off with a drive that earned three runs. Tyers was clean bowled by Lowe and left the field with seven runs to his credit, Lohman taking his place. New York at this time had 77 runs at the fall of the third wicket. Arkwright, after bowling a few balls, coaxed Cobb, who hit to Milligan and was caught out. He had scored sixteen runs and the total was eighty-seven. Rokeby then took the stand. The fifth man to fall was Lohman, who was caught out by Robinson, score 93; Mart took his place. Rokeby was at once caught out by Hill on Arkwright's bowling after having made one run, the total score at the fall of the sixth wicket being 94. Kelly followed to the bat. He and Mart kept the ball flying over the field for some time, when Milligan went in to bowl again in place of Arkwright. Mart was soon afterwards stumped out by Robinson. Total 103. At this point a recess for luncheon was taken, and the game was resumed at 2:20 o'clock with Kelly and Macnutt at the wickets. Kelly was caught at the wicket on Milligan's first ball without scoring a run. Pool was also caught out. Macnutt was clean bowled by Milligan, and after a short stand by Colder and Rose the inning closed with 112 runs for New York.
The Englishmen went to bat at 3 o'clock. Bruce and Phillips did splendid work, made repeated boundary hits and earned big scores. Mitchell was first out, being caught by Colder without making a run. Hill followed, and was clean bowled by Cobb, and the second wicket fell without a run for the “Varsity. The first score was made by Bruce, who hit the ball to the boundary for four runs. The third wicket fell when Wilson was run out on a close decision, after having made four runs, which with byes made the total 11. Phillips made several boundary hits, and when Macnutt took Cobb's place at the bowling the Britishers had made a score of 30. When 50 was reached, there was a round of applause. Lohman replaced Pool as bowler, and the Varsity players' score had reached 77, and no further wickets had fallen. Phillips was bowled out by Macnutt, after having made a score of 88 runs. Total score 193. Bruce carried off his bat for 99.

Row at Steveston Between Chinese and Japanese—One Man May Die.

(Special to the COLONIST.)

VANCOUVER.
VANCOUVER, Sept. 2.—There were 29 births, 22 deaths, 11 marriages, and 88 police court cases during the month.

WESTMINSTER.
NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 2.—In a row between Japs and Chinamen at Steveston three of the latter were severely wounded in the head. The Japs say they were fleeing in a gambling scheme by the Chinese and were getting even. One man was cut so badly in the head that he may die.

J. E. Marshall, a deck hand on the steamer Gipsy, was drowned in the North Arm of the Fraser yesterday by falling overboard. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death rendered.

Coroner Pittendrigh was murderously attacked by a Chinaman yesterday, whom he was arresting. An axe was the weapon used. The prisoner is charged with a breach of the game protection act. He was overpowered and killed.

The travelling dairy in charge of Messrs. Raddick and Marks, of the Dominion dairy staff, has started operations at Agassiz.

NANAIMO.
NANAIMO, September 2.—The parties who bonded a number of quartz claims on Texada Island, have completed arrangements to at once place a stamp mill on the island. It is expected that the mill will be in operation before snow falls.

Boring operations were to be commenced on the Dunsmuir's new coal field in Cedar district to-day. Men are already driving an incline at the outcrop.

From various points, north and south, reports have been received that the bush fires are dying out. The smoke is particularly prevalent in Cedar and Cranberry districts, however. On Gabriola Island there was a big fire on Friday.

DUNCAN.
DUNCAN, Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Strickland Bennis, Mrs. Dickson, Hon. Chief Justice Davis and Mrs. Davis, went to Victoria on Saturday morning's train. The Chief Justice and Mrs. Davis and family have gone into camp on the bank of the Cowichan river within easy distance of Duncan.

VERNON.
(From the News.)

A company has been formed under the name of "The Swan Lake Mining and Development Company." The officers are: W. J. Armstrong, manager, and R. J. Davies, secretary. Work was started on a shaft which will be sunk to the depth of about 50 feet, and the contract has been awarded to George Rankin, a practical miner of long experience. As far back as 1890 an assay of this rock obtained from the late W. Bredemeyer, of Vancouver, gave gold $12.00 per ton. In 1892 another sample was submitted to W. Pellow Harvey, and the return showed an estimate of $13.08 per ton. A third shipment of 80 pounds made to Mr. Harvey with instructions to treat it by the cyanide process gave $5.00 per ton. In his reply Mr. Harvey stated that as the rock was free milling the cyanide process would not be required to extract the gold.

A new mineral ledge was located last week on the hill above Okanagan landing. Two claims have been staked, and a few shots are being put in to uncover the ledge, which is free milling quartz, carrying gold. The claims are named Bachelor No. 1 and 2, and are staked by Messrs. G. Milligan, J. M. Martin, F. M. Kerby and J. A. McKelvie.

COAL MINE ABLAZE.

The Lives of Three Men in Peril and Without Hope of Rescue.

PANA, Ill., Sept. 2.—The old shaft of the Pana coal mine is ablaze, and the lives of three men are in peril. It is possible these men, who are imprisoned in the pit, may escape by shaft No. 2. The fire was first noticed at 8:30 o'clock last night. The shaft of the burning mine is 700 feet deep, which, with the great amount of gas, made it impossible for the workmen to get at the fire. There are fears that when an entrance to the burning mine shall have been effected it will be found that the three coal diggers have succumbed.

"COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL."

Its Dramatization to Have Its First Presentation at the Chicago Opera House.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—An event unique in theatrical and literary circles took place on Saturday night at the Auditorium hotel—a dinner given by W. H. Harvey, "Coin," to members of the "Silver Lining" company, and the rehearsal of a play suggested by Mr. Harvey's famous "School," and which is to have its first performance on the stage at the Chicago opera house. With the flowers at the plate of each guest was, to fasten them, a button, half silver, half gold, the gift of the host, each button bearing the inscription "16 to 1." The play is under the management of T. W. Miner and Henry Clay Miner, sons of Congressman Miner, of New York. It is the production of Fitzgerald Murphy, a well known Boston newspaper man. Besides Messrs. Miner, Murphy and Harvey, the guests included the twenty members of the company among them Miss Frances Drake, of San Francisco, and Miss Laura Almousio, of Boston, two strikingly handsome actresses, who are to play the leading female parts. William Courtleigh, who plays "John Jefferson," a disguise for ex-Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska, was a prominent figure. Others present included actors Robert Sexton, Will A. White, formerly of the "White Squadron," and George Hall. Notable among the addresses, that made one of the features of the delightful entertainment, was one by Mr. Harvey, in which he said the dinner to the troupe came after hearing them in rehearsal, as a recognition on his part of their sterling merits as actors and as a fitting representative to represent the cause of the people in a way never before attempted in the United States.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Great Strike in Philadelphia Settled—Impending Trouble in a Michigan Iron Town.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Thomas Devlon & Sons, carpet weavers, have signed the schedule presented by the men, and all their weavers went to work this morning. The surrender of this firm ends the strike which began about seven weeks ago, and which kept about 8,000 workmen and a dozen big mills idle.

ISPEMING, Mich., Sept. 2.—The citizens of this town are full of apprehension of impending trouble. Half a dozen companies of the Michigan National Guard are encamped in the vicinity of Lake Angelina mine, where steam shovels are to be operated by men brought from Chicago to take the places of the strikers. The mine operators are determined to move their ore, and the strikers threaten bloodshed if the imported workmen start.

CHINESE MASSACRES.

They Are a Direct Result of the Chinese-Japanese War.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Chester Holcomb, who has just returned from China, after twenty-one years' service in the American legation at Peking, says the recent massacre is traceable to the result of the Chinese-Japanese war. "At the commencement of the war between China and Japan," said he, "it was generally considered the lives of foreigners in China would be in no great danger as long as the war lasted, and it is only since hostilities ceased that the danger has commenced. In the first place the great mass of the Chinese people are disappointed with the result of the war, and are taking revenge on all foreigners whom they can kill with impunity. In the second place killing and pillaging receives great encouragement by reason of the depredations committed by hordes of disbanded soldiers all over the country."

HOLMES' TRIAL.

The Man Accused of Many Murders Likely to Be Tried in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—From latest developments in the Holmes-Pietzel case it is probable that the swindler and alleged murderer will be tried here for the murder of Ben. F. Pietzel. The body of the latter is buried in Mechanics cemetery in this city. To-day Dr. Higginbotham, of the coroner's office, went to the cemetery and exhumed the dead man's skull. It had been stated by District Attorney Graham that nothing further would be done in the case until the fate of the children had been settled. This being established it is believed Holmes will be indicted for murder here, and the skull will be presented so that it may be identified by Pietzel's peculiar teeth.

Which is the worst, imprisonment for life or a life long disease, like scrofula, for example? The former, certainly, would be preferable were it not that Ayer's Sarsaparilla can always come to the rescue and give the poor sufferer health, strength, and happiness.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

PHYSICIAN.

WHEN ALL OTHERS FAIL CONSULT

Doctor Sweany

RECOGNIZED BY THE MEDICAL FRATERNITY AS THE

LEADING AND MOST SUCCESSFUL SPECIALIST IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE friend and benefactor of suffering humanity, who for a number of years has had permanent offices at Seattle, where the sick and afflicted can receive treatment in the future, as they have in the past, from this noted philanthropist, whose fame is being spread from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast.

All are invited and no suffering human being will be turned away.

THE POOR

What is the Reason of Dr. Sweany's Success, and Why do Sick People of Every Station in Life Crowd His Office Daily?

BECAUSE

First of all he has succeeded in effecting a cure of diseases before which all others stood powerless; and second, he is not a doctor, but a Christian and a Philanthropist. His fame has preceded him, and the honors he received at the leading Eastern hospitals, as well as in Europe, were the highest ever bestowed upon anybody. To-day his treatment is unsurpassed by any, and he has testimonials to that effect from men of the highest standing in life, as well as from those of a lower station. It is a part of judgment and sense to seek Doctor Sweany first, instead of squandering time and money upon the uncertainties of patent medicines and quackery specialists.

All Private Diseases of Men and Women Positively Cured in the Shortest Possible Time.

YOUNG, MIDDLE-AGED AND OLD MEN

If you are victims of youthful indiscretions and unnatural losses, if you are on the road to idiocy, insanity and the grave, if gloom and melancholy, morbid fear and unnatural lust pervade your mind, if you are despondent and down-hearted, if you have lost all energy and ambition, if you have an aversion to society, if your memory is failing and you are unfit for business or study, you should consult Dr. Sweany before it is too late. Get well and be a man.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.

If you are suffering from any of the diseases peculiar to your sex, you should call or write to Dr. Sweany, and he will tell you just what can be done for you. He has succeeded in building up the most shattered and broken-down constitutions, and will bring back to you that health, strength and beauty which every woman should possess.

You Can be Cured at Home.

There are thousands cured at home by correspondence. Write if you cannot come personally. The strictest secrecy is observed, so cast aside all feelings of shame to consult the Doctor. He is conversant in all modern languages.

Method of Treatment.

No poisonous or injurious mineral drugs used, but the medicines are all compounded from the very choicest, purest and most effective medicinal plants, roots and herbs in the whole range of nature, and while their effects are marked and immediately apparent, they do not build up temporarily, but effect permanent as well as perfect cures.

LABOR DAY.

How the Day Was Celebrated at Nanaimo and Elsewhere—Games and Speeches.

The Demonstration at Chicago a Very Tame Affair—Other Festivities.

NANAIMO, Sept. 2.—(Special)—Labor day was celebrated here to-day with great enthusiasm. The influx of visitors from Vancouver was unusually large. The Cutch and Comox both conveyed heavy loads of passengers. The civic and industrial parade, headed by the Silver Cornet band, formed on Victoria crescent at 11 a.m., whence it proceeded to Dallas square and was joined by the Vancouver contingent. From the square the procession returned along Commercial street, up Haliburton street, back on Nicola street, along Commercial street, across the Bastion street bridge, along Wallace street to the city park. Here the intersection of a programme of sports claimed the attention of an immense throng of spectators. Four teams competed in the tug-of-war, which was won by the Athletics. Addresses were delivered by J. McGregor, M.P.P., R. Smith, Thomas Keith, H. T. Howson (representing the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council), and Rev. J. W. Pedley, of Vancouver. At the Caledonia grounds the Mount Pleasant Beavers played a lacrosse match against the Black Diamonds of this city, who defeated the Beavers by 4 to 1. The evening concluded with an open air dance at the park.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.—To-day's labor demonstration in Winnipeg surpassed anything of the kind ever attempted in the West. The parade in the morning reached the full length of Main street, and even doubled up so that the spectators saw two lines of the parade at once. The procession occupied one hour in passing. After the parade speeches were delivered by Sir John Schultz, Messrs. Fahy, Small and others. In the afternoon sports took place at the park.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—To-day being labor day the Chicago socialists had their red flag presentation as arranged, but the presence of the police made it a very tame affair. The flag was presented to the socialists by the daughter of Oscar Neebe, on behalf of the wives and daughters of the radicals in this city. It is blood red in color and one side bears the inscription, "Socialistic labor party of Chicago." The police were informed that it was the intention of the socialists to parade after the presentation ceremony and that the flag was to be carried at the head of the procession, but the officers informed the committee that no such parade would be permitted and the idea was accordingly given up. The speeches were very tame, having none of the old time radical ring in them. There was considerable disappointment because Keir Hardie failed to put in an appearance, as it had been announced that he would address the assembly.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was celebrated here as usual with a big parade and picnic in which 3,000 people took part.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—The demonstration held by the labor unions here to-day was the best ever known in the history of the labor movement in this city. The procession occupied an hour and a half in passing a given point. In the afternoon there were speeches and sports on the island.

SHIPS AND SHIPPING.

West Coast Shipping Assuming Important Dimensions—Indians Swarming Over to the Hop Fields.

Yesterday the lower wharves presented a scene of Indian life seldom seen more than once a year along the water front. Hundreds of the dusky natives, their kilted men and little ones lounged around all day, the majority of them waiting to take the steamer Rosalie for the American side this morning, while others intended to go North on the Danube last evening. The salmon fishing on the Fraser being now about finished the Indians who are not returning home for the season are going over to the American hop fields to follow their customary vocation at this time of year. A score of others who left on the Danube are classified as Northern storekeepers. They came down to the city a week or more ago with considerable money, intending to purchase their winter supplies and having done this are now returning.

WEST COAST SHIPPING.

The amount of freight shipped to West Coast points on the steamer Princess Louise last evening can be imagined when it became necessary to engage a larger steamer on the route than the regular one. For several trips past the Maude, the regular boat on the route, has been taxed heavily to carry all the freight offering. The agricultural, mineral, timber and fishing industries are each developing into greater importance every year and are creating a shipping business which bids fair in a short time to surpass any of the local trade at present existing. Among the passengers who left on the Louise were W. Lorimer, Capt. H. G. Lewis, Miss Jackson, R. R. Monro and J. S. Floyd.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamship Umatilla which left San Francisco yesterday morning, has the following cabin passengers aboard for Victoria: Miss McKewen, Mrs. L. McLean, John McKewen, Miss Louise Holm, Miss Rumbold, Mr. Rumbold, Mrs. E. Croston, Miss Doran, H. Hughes, J. A. Stow and wife, Miss Walker, Mrs. Walker, Miss Ethel Earle, G. W. Anderson and wife, J. C. Pendleton.

A small number of cabin passengers were ticketed to go North on the steamer Danube last evening, but a fair freight was shipped. The cabin list is as follows: Mrs. Rodner, Mrs. Osterhout, A. Noble and wife, H. Smith, and Mr. Hapenstone.

The British ships Howth and Glenalvon, under charter to Bell-Irving & Co. and Baker & Crawford respectively, are loading at Liverpool for Vancouver.

Yellowstone Creek the Scene of the Latest Developments—The Missing Link.

New and Very Rich Strikes at the Nitinat and Coleman Creek.

ALBERNI, Sept. 1, via Wellington Sept. 2.—(Special)—The man who owns the farm on Coleman creek where the great mountain of rotten quartz carrying free gold was discovered, became so elated at his prospect of sudden wealth that he has gone out of his head and is in confinement at Nanaimo. It is said that he bonded the claim for $2,000, payable in two years—a transaction which will probably not be recognized by the courts. Yellowstone creek is the latest competitor for popular favor. George Brown has found a ledge there carrying free gold. The rock has the appearance of the rock from the Missing Link ledge. About a dozen claims have been taken up for Victoria parties. Three prospectors came in from the Nitinat last night. They report that the country is rich in minerals, of which they brought some beautiful specimens. The Missing Link company have reached the ledge at a depth of three feet, having got through the slide that covered it. The width is two feet and the rock richer than at the surface. The Alberni company adjoining, on the south, has sunk three feet since the last report and free gold continues plentiful in the rock. This company has two tons of quartz ready for shipment to San Francisco. On Frank McQuillan's hydraulic claim on China Creek on Thursday the first pan of dirt from the bad rock was washed and showed seventy-five cents. About thirty claims have been staked off during the past week and there are rumors to-night of a new and very rich strike at the Nitinat and another at Coleman Creek; but they require confirmation.

OBSTRUCTIVE TACTICS.

Healy Has Distanced John Dillon in the Race for the Irish Leadership.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Very little of importance occurred during the past week, but there was an exceedingly lively time in parliament on Saturday on account of the obstructive tactics of the Irish members, led principally by Timothy Healy, who was ably assisted by Dr. Tanner. Mr. Healy would seem to have completely distanced John Dillon in the race for the leadership of the Irish parliamentary party, while Justin McCarthy seems to have entirely disappeared from active politics, and there are rumors in circulation that he will shortly retire from any further participation in parliamentary work. The situation in many respects is similar to that created in 1886 by the ingenious tactics of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, but with the difference that Mr. Healy cannot hope to succeed in the face of the Tory majority.

THE HEAVENS IN SEPTEMBER.

Orin E. Harman's Forecast of the Movements of the Planets.

Venus will be at inferior conjunction with the sun on the 19th. After that time she will be a morning star. She will move rapidly westward from the sun, rising at 4:40 a.m. on the 30th. Venus has given us a rare entertainment as an evening star, and her brilliant exhibitions with Mars, Jupiter and the moon will live among the delightful memories of the spring and summer of 1895. Mars is near the sun, and sets at 6:29 on the 15th and 5:48 on the 30th. Jupiter as morning star rises at 1:04 on the 15th and at 12:18 on the 30th. Saturn is low in the west and sets at 7:47 on the 15th and 6:51 on the 30th. Arcturus is beginning to show his luster in the Western skies. He sets at 10:02 p.m. on the 15th. Altair is climbing high toward the meridian in the early evening. He passes the meridian at 8:07 p.m. on the 15th. The astronomical feature of the month is the total lunar eclipse on the 3rd (to-night.) The moon will then be 252,400 miles from the earth, looking only 500 miles of being at her greatest distance. The eclipse will be total on a grand scale, the magnitude being 1.55. The earth's shadow is 5,700 miles thick at the moon's distance on the 3rd, and the moon then passes within 580 miles of the axis of the shadow. The first contact of the moon with the shadow will be made at a point 36 degrees north of east, on the moon's west. The last contact, 20 degrees south of west. The moon enters the shadow at 8 o'clock p.m., and leaves it at 11:54 p.m., Pacific Standard time.

THE COTTON TRADE.

TO THE EDITOR:—Your article in Sunday's paper under the heading of "Unlooked for Competition," struck me as being at variance with other reports as supplied by correspondents representing English journals of trade and commerce. With the view of placing before your readers reliable information regarding the cotton trade and industry of China, the following item taken from the British Trade Journal may be of interest:

"The cotton mills, which are a monopoly of the Chinese government, are doing well, but private persons (who would be allowed to erect mills and carry on the manufacture on paying a fixed royalty on their output) will not do so, for if the value of silver were to go up 25 per cent. or 30 per cent., or the value of the dollar to 2s. 10d. or 3s., they would be unable to compete with Lancashire, the present margin on the coarser kinds not being very large. Manchester would have little to fear, it is believed, in Shanghai if the silver dollar could be established on a permanent basis of 75 per cent. of its nominal value." Yours faithfully, F. H. C.

STRAIGHTFORWARD.

In a speech which the Premier made at Calgary a few days ago he is reported by the Herald of that town to have said that—

"His sole idea as the Head of the Government was to do his best for the interests of the country—whose extent and immense variety of resources he was in part seeing for the first time. He would carry out what he conscientiously believed to be best in the interests of the country even if by so doing he endangered his position, 'for' he declared, 'I would gladly end my political existence and allow others to run the Government rather than dilly-dally and shilly-shally with an important question affecting the rights and religious opinions of any section of our population.'"

We have taken what we believe to be the true course with regard to this school question, and we are prepared to argue the merits with any one at any time and will stand or fall by the position we have taken." There is no mistaking this language. The reader must see from the way in which the First Minister speaks that the stories that have been raised about the Government's receding from the ground they had taken and making bargains and compromises inconsistent with the determination they have expressed so clearly and so forcibly, are utterly without foundation.

DEFINITE AT LAST.

Mr. Laurier has been making speeches in Gaspe, where reporters are scarce and journalism not very highly developed. Consequently very little has been heard of his utterances in that distant part of the Dominion. It is said, however, that the Manitoba school question has been the principal subject of his discourses. He is represented as "telling the people that as a French Canadian and a Catholic he could not but render full justice to the Catholics of Manitoba, and should certainly see, if he came to power, that they were given equal rights with those given by the Catholics of Quebec to the Protestant minority."

It is easy to see how the French Canadians of Gaspe would understand this utterance of the silver-tongued orator, and it is difficult to imagine how the English-speaking Canadian Liberals of the other provinces can interpret it to mean non-interference with Manitoba. For if the Manitobans are not disposed to give the Catholic minority of their province the same rights as the Protestant minority of Quebec enjoy and exercise, how could he "see" that such rights were given to the Manitoba Catholics without the interference of Federal authority? This, as it is reported, is the nearest approach to a definite utterance on the Manitoba school question that Mr. Laurier has yet made. We trust that neither he nor his journalistic friends will attempt to explain it away.

THAT MORAL VICTORY.

The Grits are trying, as we were sure they would, to create the impression that although they were beaten in Westmoreland by several hundred votes they gained a moral victory in that county. Their ground for making this boast is that in the general election of 1891 Mr. Wood, a leading business man in the county and former representative, was returned by a majority of 2,148. They forget to say that Mr. Wood's opponent at that time was a man of little account in Westmoreland and that the Liberal knew that he could not by any possibility be elected. Everyone who has had anything to do with elections in this Dominion knows what is certain to happen when a very weak man is set up to oppose a very strong man, and that strong man a supporter of the Government of the day. A walk over the course for the strong candidate is in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the result. This is just what happened in Westmoreland in 1891. But in previous elections, when Mr. Wood was opposed by men of influence in the Liberal party, his victories were not by any means so easy. In 1882, when Mr. Wood undertook to oppose Sir Albert Smith, who had been a member of Mr. Mackenzie's Government, his majority was only 432. In 1887, when Mr. Emmerson, another influential Liberal, was the opposition candidate, Mr. Wood's majority was 542. In 1891, as we have shown, the Conservative majority owing to the weakness of the Liberal candidate was an abnormally large one. We think it safe under these circumstances to estimate the normal Conservative majority in Westmoreland at between five and six hundred. But Mr. Powell's majority was the other day as the Liberals themselves admit, considerably over 600. Where, then, does the moral victory for the Liberals come in? It must be remembered, too, that Mr. Killam was considered by his party and by his opponents an exceptionally strong man. The plain truth is, when all the circumstances are considered, that the Liberals were badly beaten in Westmoreland on the 24th, and it is foolish in them to try to make it appear that they were not.

AN EXPERT OPINION.

One objection to wooden pavements is that if they are not very carefully laid they vitiate the atmosphere in their vicinity. The "Engineering Record," of the 24th ultimo, says:

"The fact has long been known among sanitary engineers that street washings are no improvement in character over ordinary sewage, and occasionally the latter liquid may have the advantage. Single block pavements as ordinarily laid are full of openings between the blocks, which persistently hold dirt saturated with the foul liquids of the street, and under the action of the sun the most unwholesome vapors are constantly being discharged into the atmosphere. However well laid such pavements may be, these unsanitary conditions are constantly being created with more or less activity; good work will only to a small extent remedy the evil. During the cold portion of the year these effects are largely mitigated, but not removed, while attacks of diseases peculiar to cold weather find favorable physical conditions of the population induced by active unsanitary conditions of the previous hot weather. The continuation of these circumstances, year after year, extends the foul saturation to the earth under the pavement, and intensifies the polluting effects of the whole mass on the atmosphere. In brief outline the preceding considerations accurately represent what is going on throughout the entire area of city streets covered with ordinary single block pavement. It is not a matter of wonder, then, that the grippe, pneumonia, and other diseases of a similar general character produce such ravages in New York and other large cities."

THE LAW ENFORCED.

The inhabitants of New York City have been lately exercised over the enforcement of the Sunday Closing Law. The Legislature of the State of New York, composed chiefly of members from the rural districts and country towns and villages, enacted a stringent law respecting the sale of intoxicating drinks on Sunday. At first the saloon-keepers of New York and their friends laughed at the new law. They declared that it was made by an assemblage of "hay-seeds" and might be suited to and enforced in a cross-roads village, that it was not applicable to a great city like New York, and that it would be folly to attempt to put it in operation there. There were, too, many who were by no means friendly to the liquor traffic and those who carry it on, who believed that it was a mistake to place a law on the Statute Book which could not be enforced. Better, they argued, to have no Sunday law at all than one which would be certain to be treated with contempt both by the people and the civic authorities. The law, they admitted, was a good one if it could be enforced. But this law could not be enforced, consequently the open disregard of it would add the demoralization that is caused by the habitual violation of law to the demoralization caused by excessive drinking on the Lord's Day.

A large number of the citizens of New York, however, approved of the law. They believed that its rigid enforcement would do good to all classes, and particularly to the classes to which the open saloons were a temptation and a snare. The law ought to be enforced, they asserted, and it must be enforced. There were others, and among them some of the most worthy citizens, who held that the question was not whether the Sunday closing law was a good law or a bad law, but whether or not law in the city of New York should be respected. It is, they contended, of the utmost importance not only to the city of New York but to the whole of the United States, that the law should be supreme. If every state, every city and every municipality permitted the laws enacted by the different law-making bodies to be held in contempt by those who disliked them or those who considered them unwise and unnecessary, anarchy would be sure sooner or later to ensue. The only safe way was to uphold the law as long as it was law, and if it did not operate for the good of the community to repeal it in the way prescribed by the constitution. The President of the Board of Police Commissioners, Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, was of this opinion. His business he considered was to execute the law, not to judge the law. He therefore declared his intention, whether it was good or bad, to carry out the Sunday-closing law to the letter.

This determination of the President of the Police Commissioners was not good news to quite a number on the police force. The Sunday-closing law had been used by a good many of them as a means of squeezing the saloon-keepers. Some of the ward politicians, too, greeted the change in police administration with curses both loud and deep. The Sunday law was used by them as an agent to keep the saloon-keepers politically straight. The liquor seller who greased the palms of the police and kept on the right side of the city politicians, was allowed to sell as much as he could on Sundays and to violate other rules and regulations. But the liquor seller who did not treat the police liberally or who showed signs of an inclination to think and act for himself at election times, was compelled scrupulously to comply with all the regulations of the traffic. The anger of the corrupt policemen and the consternation of the whole gang of ward politicians and their followers when Mr. Roosevelt commenced in earnest to enforce the Sunday-closing law may be easily imagined. But he went on with the work of enforcing the law regardless of the indignation and the threats of those who were opposed to its enforcement.

The police force soon found it to their interest to second the efforts of the Police Commissioners, and as they proceeded with the work they found that they had the moral support of the best part of the press and the public. Many of the saloon-keepers are glad to be relieved from the tyranny of the police and the politicians. We would not be surprised to learn that they are benefited peculiarly by the change, for their exactions were simply enormous. "So successful have been the efforts of the Commissioners that 90 per cent. of the places where liquor is sold were absolutely closed last Sunday. The leaders among the liquor dealers," says the New York Times, "have become convinced that the risk of keeping open on Sunday is too great, and that the fruits of the Sunday trade would not pay for the fine and other expenses attendant upon their arrest, and the game is not worth the candle. They have also discovered that the feelings of the respectable portion of the community were being aroused against them by their open and persistent defiance of law."

 Sept. 4—Book debts. H. Cuthbert & Co.

The auction of Mr. A. Smith's stock in trade is postponed until Tuesday, at 11 a.m. H. Cuthbert & Company are the auctioneers.

A very important sale of household furniture will be held at H. Cuthbert and Company's salerooms today, at 2 p.m. The rooms are packed with well kept oak and walnut furniture from two residences which must be disposed of, as one of the vendors leaves the city almost immediately. A very fine donkey, cart and harness will also be sold.

At 11 a.m. this morning the stock in trade of Mr. A. Smith, of the Novelty Works, Fort Street, will be sold at auction by Messrs. H. Cuthbert & Company. The most important item in this sale is a capital safe, by Taylor, in very good condition.

A very good chance of obtaining bargains at Hardaker's auction rooms to day, there will be offered without reserve a large quantity of enameled goods, furniture, piano, etc.

THE CITY.

OWING to the illness of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bette, of Centennial church, Rev. Mr. Gee, lately of Hamilton, filled the pulpit on Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Mr. Gee is on his way to Kaslo where he hopes to regain lost health.

HENRY SNOW will appear in the provincial police court this afternoon at 2 o'clock on a charge of refusing to provide for his wife Maria Snow. Mrs. Snow is in a delicate state of health, and has been for some time living on the charity of friends.

SUNDAY evening's services at St. John's church were brought to a conclusion with a recital from the works of Jude, Ralf, Spinoza and Batisse by Mr. J. E. Bridgman, the organist. Each of the numbers was excellently given, the trumpet march being an especially capable interpretation.

THE blustery and not altogether agreeable weather kept many at home Sunday afternoon who otherwise would have been included in the crowd who enjoyed the band concert at Beacon Hill park. The published programme was given in its entirety and received with general expressions of appreciation.

To-morrow evening the Sir Knights of the Uniform Rank, K. of P., will celebrate the anniversary of this branch of Pythianism with a social dance in Castle hall, Broad street, for which the Richardson orchestra will supply the music. Those who remember the Pythian dances of last season will bear testimony that no pleasanter place could be found than Castle hall when the Knights are the hosts.

LOCAL astronomers are very dubious as to the prospects for observing this evening's eclipse of the moon, the air being full of the smoke of bush fires with little hope of it clearing. The evenings, too, are a little chilly, and the non-solent stargazers who hail an eclipse as a golden opportunity will find both the park and the piazza a trifle wintry. The eclipse, if it arrives on scheduled time, will commence about 7 o'clock, everything being over by one in the morning.

SUNDAY's services in Calvary Baptist church were largely attended, the sermon in the evening being the first of a series which the pastor, Rev. Ralph W. Trotter, proposes giving on "The Gospel and the Needs of Modern Society," "Honesty in Common Life" and "The Messages of the Trees" were the subjects respectively of the sermons morning and evening, and had a peculiar interest for the workmen, a large number of whom were present.

MISS JENNIE HUTCHESON, daughter of Mr. J. Hutcheson, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. While going down a steep embankment near Beacon Hill for the purpose of giving her dogs a swim in the sea she tripped over a log, breaking her leg in two places below the knee. She was carried by kind friends to the residence of Dr. Milne, who at once set the injured leg and did all in his power to relieve the young lady's sufferings. During the afternoon she was conveyed to her parents' residence, Victoria Crescent, and at last reports was resting easily.

It is practically certain that Robert Blythe, charged with seducing Belle Rockwood, of Port Hadlock, will be turned free to-day. The provincial authorities have not had any answer to their letters to Eugene Rockwood, the girl's father, and as Belle is now married on the American side to Peter Pederson, it seems improbable that any of these witnesses will come for the preliminary hearing to-day. Being outside the jurisdiction there is no way for the provincial authorities to force them to come. Consequently, without the principal witnesses there is nothing for it but to set Blythe free.

PREPARATIONS are all complete for the concert by the fine band of the Battalion, directed by Mr. J. M. Finn, at 36 Superior street to-morrow afternoon. The ladies' auxiliary have the affair in hand and the concert will be under their auspices and for the benefit of that most deserving institution—the Jubilee hospital. Here is the programme Mr. Finn and his associate musicians will present: March, "My Own Canadian Home (McLaughlin); overture, "Poet and Peasant" (Suppe); waltz, "Over the Waves" (Rosas); solo for cornet, "Blue Bells of Scotland," with variations, (Hartmann); Mr. Walter North soloist; march, "British Patrol" (Arch); grand selection, "Melodies of Scotland," (Bonnieau); played in honor of Lord and Lady Aberdeen; descriptive, "Postilion in the Woods" (Schaeffer); solo for clarinet, "Comin' Through the Rye," (Thronton).

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

The Nanaimos Fall to Keep Their Engagement With the Amities—Opening of the Deer Season.

As the Nanaimo nine failed to keep their engagement, a team of the Amities played the Ecoteras at Caledonia park yesterday afternoon, and lost by a score of 11 to 19. The Ecoteras had as their battery W. Duck and W. Wriglesworth, who kept the Amities down to two runs in the first six innings. In the seventh, however, they made a decent showing by piling up 6 runs. For the Amities Schultz pitched remarkably well, only allowing the Ecoteras to pound him around for 11 runs for the five innings in which he pitched, when F. Smith took his place. As the two innings in which the latter was in the box cost just eight runs, Jackson was called upon, and struck out his opponents in one, two, three order. The chief features of the match were a wonderful catch at centre by C. N. Gowen, the heavy batting of the Ecoteras, and the charming impartiality with which Geo. Smith, the umpire, gave every decision against the Amities.

CRICKET.

GULLINE'S XI VS. CUTHBERT'S XI.
 The return match between the above teams proved another victory for Mr. Gulline's eleven by a score of 74 to 47. Mr. Cuthbert's team went in first, and were only able to put together 47 owing to the splendid bowling of Martin and Anderson, the former securing 6 wickets for 14 runs. Swinerton and Schwengers made 17 and 12 respectively by careful cricket. The venture of Mr. Gulline's eleven produced 74, of which number Pauline made 26 and L. York 19 in good style; and Bothwell, for Mr. Cuthbert's side, was very destructive with the ball, his analysis reading 6 for 25. In their second innings Mr. Cuthbert's team did much better, having only 2 wickets down for 94 runs when time was called, Martin 34, Swinerton 18, Booth 17, and Cuthbert 9, all playing first-class innings.

LAWN TENNIS.

THE TOURNAMENT AT DUNCAN.
 DUNCAN, Sept. 2.—(Special).—The Cowichan lawn tennis tournament was proceeded with on Saturday last with the following results:

LADIES' SINGLES—CLUB HANDICAP.
 Preliminary round—Mrs. Elkington (rec. 15) beat Miss E. Maitland-Douglas (rec. 30), 1-6, 6-2, 6-0; Miss M. Livingston (rec. 30) beat Miss C. Livingston (rec. 30), 6-1, 6-2; Miss M.  Semi-final—E. Musgrave beat E. Hicks-Beach, 6-1, 6-2; leaving C. S. Fall to play E. W. Shaw, C. Irving to play B. Morton, and E. E. Barkley to play W. H. Mayo.

THE GUN.

SMALL BAGS THE RULE.
 The deer season opened yesterday with disappointments for the great majority of the hunters, the hundred or more who spent the day up the line forming a guard of honor in the evening for one solitary deer. Nearer home, and especially in the Sooke lake neighborhood, better results were obtained. Mr. S. P. Moody being among the minority lucky enough to open the season with a brace of big bucks. Few, if any, gave a thought to the ducks for the next few weeks venison will be the prize aimed for.

HERE AND THERE.

GENERAL GOSSIP OF CURRENT NEWS.
 The regul. meeting of the V.W.C. is to be held at the club rooms this evening when reports are asked for from all members with whom Rambler tickets have been placed for sale. The "Roads Improvement" committee will also be heard from.

C. M. Beecher has been elected president of the Vancouver Hockey Club; J. M. Bowell, vice-president; and W. J. K. Flinton, captain.

LABOR'S HOLIDAY.

Workingmen's Holiday Very Generally Observed in Victoria.

Labor Day was observed very quietly in Victoria. There was no demonstration, but many people, especially workmen, took advantage of the holiday. Building operations were suspended on the government work, and government departments, banks, the city hall, courts and public offices generally were closed for the statutory holiday. Quite a number of the wholesale establishments and retail stores were closed in the afternoon, and as a result little was doing in business circles. The weather was too boisterous for the usual number of outings, but in spite of this the Y.M.I.

After the Grip

I was in a dreadful state, weak and miserable. Doctor said I had Bright's disease. My kidneys were in dreadful condition. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to give it a trial, thinking at the time it was not much use as nothing helped me before. But, thank God, I got relief after the first bottle. I kept on taking it and used five more. Now I am cured. I never felt better. I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla. JOSHUA SMITH, 201 Market Street, Brantford, Ontario.

plonic to Sidney attracted a very large number of people. Two trains on the Victoria & Sidney railway gave people an opportunity of attending the attractions provided by the Institute. In the afternoon there were races and games which were well contested, and during the evening a dance was given in the pavilion. Bantley's orchestra was on hand to provide music for the dancing and altogether a very pleasant time was passed.

STEAMER Chittagong will arrive in port early this morning.

THE Alaska steamer City of Topeka arrived back from the North this morning, bringing among her passengers Lieutenant Winter of H.M.S. Peasant, which has had monotonous routine to perform thus far for this season, no seizures having been made up to the 4th ult. In the first week of sealing in the sea the schooners only lowered boats three times owing to rough weather. As a result the Triumph secured 250 skins and the Maud S. 275, while the others of the fleet averaged from 180 to 200. Other of the passengers down were Rev. Dr. Campbell and Mr. Brabazon and the members of his party, who have completed for the season the work of the Canadian-Alaskan boundary survey.

THE Salvation Army "Harvest Festival" came to a close last night with a regular auction of the fruits of the earth and plenty of other things. The big platform in the barracks was covered with tables on which were arranged a miscellaneous assortment of fruit, cakes, candy, vegetable, preserves and any amount of other things collected by the local soldiers to help along the good work of providing for the shelter depot, rescue and work among the poor generally. There were even a bale of hay and a lot of live chickens. The hall was well filled with people and after a short service one of the Army acted as auctioneer and sold off the harvest offerings for what they would bring, the bidding being at times very lively.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF T.

THESE are the days of long hours for everybody and short prices for us. Time, which like tide and taxes, waits for nobody, is hustling us toward that delightful period called Fall Trade. We are about ready for it. All the stuff about which fingers any suggestion of June roses or July sunshine must follow Bill Nye's celestial—THEY MUST GO. To stimulate September business, for one week, we offer—dozen, being remainder of a line of Black Fast Dye Cotton Hose, 3 pairs for 35c., 6 pairs for 60c., or $1.15 per dozen. Dozen Blouse Waists, to clear, at 90c. each.—dozen Wrappers, very pretty styles, at $1.15 each.—dozen Duck, dairy Dimple and prim Plaque Dresses, with fluffy sleeves and full skirts, at $1.90 to $2.50 each. But it is needless to enumerate; this is to be a

TO THE LADIES.

Last November, during a Clearance Sale, the first we had in twelve years, we announced an alteration or re-arrangement of premises, they being inconveniently small. It has taken more time and ingenuity to effect the contemplated improvements, but we have at last achieved our intention.

Commencing with MONDAY, September 2nd, the room overhead, hitherto used for reserved stock, will be occupied as DRESSMAKING PARLORS, by Miss McGibbon, who will engage in Dress and Cloak Making. Her artistic skill in these lines is well known to the Ladies of Victoria.

GLOBE BELT LINE.

A Scheme to Travel From Boston to Australia in a Palace Car.

Great Undertaking to Run a Double Track Railway Round the World.

This is an age of wonders and gigantic undertakings. People no longer look upon another trans-continental line as anything out of the possibilities. Even a cable across the Pacific, though no doubt a tremendous work, does not present any insuperable difficulties either to engineers or financiers, and people accept it as a not remote possibility.

It remains for Samuel L. Kelly, of Victoria, to startle the world. With a boldness of conception before which even the achievements of modern science pale as a tallow dip before the electric light, Mr. Kelly has conceived a plan to belt the world—and a double track at that. Instead of sitting down and sighing, like Alexander is popularly supposed to have done, for a new world to conquer Mr. Kelly has been up and doing. Like Puck, he has said, "I'll put a girdle round about the earth," and the result is a prospectus which sets forth:

"The Great Continental Railroad Co., Ltd., to belt the world—double track. The capital stock of the whole road from Boston to as near Australia as possible will be $100,000,000. The part of the road and bridge for British Columbia will cost about $9,000,000. It is a great undertaking, but I feel competent of building this said railroad in eighteen months with only a little assistance. With the dissection of the shareholders the officers should be entitled to say ten shares each of $100 each, to show for their services, but none of these ten shares can be sold outside of the company, nor can any one or two men hold shares enough to freeze out small shareholders."

There are no doubts in Mr. Kelly's mind; he, he, feels, "competent of building this road," and consequently it is only right that he should be entitled to sign himself, as he has done, "S. L. Kelly, manager and financier."

A very neat certificate of stock has been issued. It is ornamented at the top with a freight train flying along under full steam. The smoke issues from the smokestack quite realistically, and the wheels—for there are wheels—of the cars seem to run round. Some very prominent names are put at the head of the certificate, but these gentlemen have not so far accepted the honors thrust upon them, and indeed yesterday one of them did not know he was mentioned at all. The certificates look as pretty as a Confederate bank bill.

There is to be a "meeting of the shareholders," the prospectus states, "at the board of trade building on Friday, September 6, 1895, at 2 o'clock p.m., to form a board of directors and transact business necessary to the company."

Mr. Kelly will explain the whole thing then and show how it is to be done.

However, he consented to talk about his railway yesterday. The idea, it seems, emanated from some talk or correspondence Mr. Kelly had with "Billy Cotton," of Boston. Mr. Kelly has been trading with Billy Cotton for the last fifteen years and consequently knows him well. Mr. Cotton is interested in a big railway syndicate, whose names Mr. Kelly could not recall yesterday, to build a railway to Russia from Boston, as a beginning. It was to come along through the States and touch the C.P.R. at Calgary or somewhere, and then utilizing some 1,100 miles of the C.P.R. would branch off and cut through the Peace river country, one branch going to Queen Charlotte Sound and then to Alaska, where by means of the Alaskan railway it would reach the Siberian system. Then, by connecting the Siberian with the Chinese systems and so on south in the simplest manner possible, there is only the necessity of bridges or a ferry, "whichever is the most feasible," Mr. Kelly says, to tap the Australian system of railways. That's what the $100,000,000 capital is to do. Now Mr. Kelly's intention is to first of all connect Victoria with the United States system of railways. That will practically connect Victoria with Boston. Mr. Kelly first figured on bridging the Straits of Fuca, but, as he very truly observed yesterday, "when you have to figure on half-inch iron for a thousand feet of pier and there are thirty piers to be constructed it comes pretty expensive." He accordingly abandoned that idea, and would have a ferry from Crescent Bay to Beecher Bay, which would leave only 16 miles of railroad to construct to connect with the E. & N. railway.

"Then," said Mr. Kelly, "when the C. P. R. find we are tapping the Queen Charlotte Sound country they will be forced to allow the 'world's belt line' to use the 1,100 miles already spoken of and will have to assist in taking hold of the scheme."

This is part of Mr. Kelly's scheme, but he does not want much said about it at present, on which account this small notice will have to suffice. He will explain it all fully at the meeting on Friday.

PEARY RELIEF PARTY.

The "Kite" Expected to Return This Month.

St. Johns, Nfld., Sept. 2.—The first news from the Peary relief expedition was received here today. It came by the American schooner John E. Mackenzie, sailing from the Greenland halibut fisheries. The Mackenzie met the Kite with the expedition at Holsteinburg on July 15. At Holsteinburg the Kite took aboard Prof. Dyche, one of the members of the expedition and sailed again the same evening. Very little is reported south of Greenland waters. The Mackenzie fished in latitude 68, and saw no ice in sufficient quantity to cause the steamer inconvenience. The crew of the Mackenzie think the Kite will have no difficulty in reaching Wales sound, where the Peary headquarters are located. The return of the relief party is expected about the end of this month.

SEVEN MILLION POUNDS.

What the Gold Output of the Rand District Reached Last Year.

In a recent issue the Standard and Digere's News, of Johannesburg, Transvaal, South Africa, published a diagram and figures showing the yearly output of the gold from the celebrated Rand district from 1887 to 1894. These figures are decidedly interesting and instructive, showing what has been the result of steady development work in gold mining in South Africa from small beginnings a few years ago. In May, 1887, the output of the Rand was 887 ounces, while eight years later, in June, 1895, the output for the month reached the enormous amount of 200,941 ounces. Some idea of the rapidity of this growth may be seen from the following figures. In December, 1890, the 50,000 ounce figure was reached for the month's output. Eighteen months later that had again doubled, the output for the month of June, 1892, being 103,252 ounces. And in last June that latter figure again was doubled, so that in four and a half years the output from the Rand quadrupled. The Rand now holds the third place as a gold producer among the great gold producing countries; for 1894 Australia leading with $2 millions of pounds sterling, United States second with 7.9 millions of pounds sterling, and the Rand third with 7 millions. For 1895 the Rand will lead the world, its output being reckoned at 2,400,000 ounces, or in money value, £8,400,000. The possibilities of proper mining development are practically illustrated here and are particularly instructive in this province, where the enormous mineral resources of the country are only beginning to be known. The wonderful results of the last two years in the British Columbia mining districts augur well for a rapid increase in the output of precious metals that will astonish the world. The gold and the silver are here, the judicious investment of capital is all that is required to produce the much desired results.

MANITOBA'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Speculation as to Sir John Schultz's Future Course—Likely to Run for Lisgar.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.—(Special)—An Ottawa dispatch says that Hon. Mr. Patterson was sworn in to-day as Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba. The news excited but little comment here as it has been regarded as settled that Sir John Schultz would be replaced by Mr. Patterson after September 1. There is much speculation as regards Sir John's future course. Many say he is to receive a senatorship, while others look upon him as the next Conservative candidate for Lisgar.

"THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE" IS HAPPY, FRUITFUL MARRIAGE.

Every Man Who Would Know the Grand Truths; the Plain Facts; the New Discoveries of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life; Who Would Atone for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure the Wonderful Little Book Called "COMPLETE MANHOOD and How to Attain It."

"Here at last is information from a high medical source that must work wonder with this generation of men."
The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor and manly power.
A method by which to end all unnatural drains on the system.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, drowsiness, etc.
To exchange a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.
To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, etc.

To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.
Age no barrier. Failure impossible. 2,000 references.

The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men only who need it.
A despairing man, who applied to us, soon after wrote:

"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday and my new self was born today. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"

And another thus:
"If you dumped a cartload of gold all over me it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."

Write to the ERIC MEDICAL COMPANY, Buffalo, N.Y., and ask for the little book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD." Refer to this paper, and the company promises to send the book, in sealed envelope, without any marks, and entirely free, until it is well introduced, and

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE PROGRESS OF WOMEN IN USING THE BICYCLE.

Dressing the Children—Bicycle Costumes
In Paris—After a Hot Day—The Japanese Wheelwomen—Women at Göttingen—Seasonable Hints.

All the world seems to be a wheel. Grandmothers and babies ride bicycles, so do the seamstress and the society leader, the millionaire and the hod carrier, the soldier, sailor and postman, the doctor, lawyer and clergyman, maids, matrons, wives, mothers, husbands, fathers, brothers, sisters, aunts, cousins—all sorts and conditions of men and women have yielded to the fascination of these tandem spheres of steel and rubber and are rolling over the streets and highways, lanes and byways of town and village in bewildering procession.

A GRACEFUL MOUNT.

The bicycle craze, for that is the only name for it, has affected trade and commerce in many and palpable ways. It has entered seriously into the question of transportation. Legislation has been necessary to meet the new conditions of three-fourths of the country's citizens whirling over the ground on pneumatic tires.

Women uncumbered late, but they have gone under fast and far now that they have acknowledged the sway of the wheel. The woman who does not ride is getting rarer every day. The woman who has not thought of riding is really a remarkable person.

Women's bicycling received its real impetus when the smart set took it up. Once the seal of fashion was set upon the sport the pace of its success was designated. The limit of that success is still unsettled. Conservatism in general has entered its protest in print and by word of mouth and continues to do so, but individual conservatism has daily yielded to the infectious influences all about, and the ranks of the new riders every week are recruited from the most modest and feminine, the least aggressive and most womanly of women.

There is no earthly reason why they should not be. If the exercise can be brought into disrepute, it will be by its monopoly by the other sort of women. It is those of the sex who adorn and dignify every act they perform who are needed in this and every other pastime, exercise or occupation.

That women can ride the wheel acceptably in every sense of the word is demonstrated every hour of every day. The illustration shows a woman in the act of mounting, and her pose is as graceful and pleasing as if she were entering a carriage, much more so than the spring to a horse's back for a canter.

In the matter of costume the heaven of taste and modesty is as valuable among wheelwomen as among women who do not wheel. So long as it is the custom of society that women shall wear skirts she should keep to them on the wheel. Numerous skirt costumes have been designed that are safe and convenient, and the plea that either quality is increased by bloomers is not tenable. If in future decades dress for women shall be revolutionized and the skirts of today be done away with, as have the farthingales and coifs of former generations, there will then be no public sentiment or conventionalism to be outraged and displeased, and the bloomer question may take on a different phase. The present, and it is to be hoped the future, woman for many a long day should keep to her skirts.

Nor should the matter of age affect woman's riding. If she is inclined to the exercise and has the strength for it, the Biblical limitation of threescore and ten need not prevent her taking it. The older woman, however, who mounts the wheel needs to be especially careful in her dress. What is piquant and effective at 20 is not equally so at 40 and 50.—New York Times.

Dressing the Children.

The first thing in dressing little children is to make them comfortable, and the other first thing is to keep them clean—absolutely clean. Fine clothes are much harder to wash than plain ones, so that sometimes they are not washed so often. A plain little cotton frock just from the wash tub is a much more agreeable sight than an elaborately trimmed one not quite fresh. Have plenty of clothes—so many that they need not be considered at all and may be put on fresh four or five times a day if necessary, and so plain that they are no trouble to wash.

One woman, who determined that her little girl should be always clean, and who was obliged to consider pennies very closely, hit on this plan: She made the little frocks perfectly plain, out of anything she happened to pick up cheap. Lawn or dimity, nainsook or linen, coarse or fine, but all soft, nothing stiff or scratchy, no cross barked muslins or pique—most abominable of stuffs. She made three or four dresses. When one was at all soiled, it was taken off and thrown to soak in a tub of warm water, and by night there were generally two or three, sometimes four or five. After these little frocks were washed they were simply wrung out very tight and left to dry, then shaken out all full of beautiful little folds like the drapery on a Greek statue. They were not ironed at all, so that all the labor of starching and pressing was saved.

This woman's child was always as fresh as a rose and always in white, which is so much sweeter and prettier than colors. Nothing is more comfortable than white india silk, so cool and soft and as easily washed as cotton, while more comfortable. A little white silk frock is the perfection of comfort. Many thin white wool materials are useful also. If people save the money they spend on lace, embroidery, ribbons and starch and spend it in soft, fine material and liberal quantities of severely plain clothes, surely their children would be much more easy in their minds and bodies in this weather.—New York World.

Bicycle Costumes In Paris.

Just now the ambition of most women appears to be to ride the man's machine, the diamond frame, a lighter machine than the ordinary woman's wheel, and I honestly believe that this latter wheel will soon be relegated to the limbo of curiosities. Much the same thing will happen with regard to the present costume. Already the skirt is fast going. Another step and it will be but a memory.

Here is the orthodox and really fashionable costume: Very full knickerbockers, the folds falling below the knee, the appearance being that of a skirt, and yet without a skirt's inconvenience. The waist may vary, but the most popular, especially with slim waisted women, is that known as the bolero. And, above all, a man's cap or hat, in warm weather of straw, at other seasons of felt. The stockings may be of fine wool, black or dark blue. Silk stockings are tabooed, and any color but black or dark blue, such as stripes or "load" colors, are considered deplorable. Finally, laced or buttoned shoes, but not reaching above the ankle. Gaiters are a blunder, and, moreover, they are apt to hurt.

All this is highly artistic when properly worn, and yet the height of perfection has not been reached. Hundreds of bicyclists, men and women of irreproachable taste, are busy designing something that will be better, and the fashionable tailors are losing sleep in the quest for some successful design. The bicycle world awaits with an ovation the man of genius who will suggest a costume at once simple, elegant, appropriate, comfortable, and last, but not least, not yet worn everywhere.—Scribner's.

After a Hot Day.

It is a little hard to "dress up" in the evening, when nothing seems to suit the sunburned face and hands so well as the negligee outing costume we wear daily, which, by the way, should be navy blue or dark green. But suppose we have a secret talk together, my blue eyed maids, before it is time to appear at the tea table and see if things cannot be bettered a little!

First, let me tell you, before you go on a water excursion, to thoroughly bathe your face, neck and hands with any pure cold cream, an excellent preparation for warding off and removing sunburn, that can be bought at any druggist's. Then, when you enter your room all heated and tired on your arrival home, first take a sponge bath, and after it fill a deep basin with lukewarm water and into it boldly plunge your face, holding your breath and closing your eyes.

Keep it there as long as possible without breathing; then "come to the surface," take a deep breath and try it again, repeating the process a number of times. Gently dab your face dry with a soft towel, afterward sponging it lightly with alcohol, and sit, or, what is better, lie down and rest half an hour or longer.

At the end of that time you will find your color will have perceptibly diminished, and a little baby powder deftly applied will remove the shiny appearance and tone down the overredness effectively. On retiring for the night bathe the face, neck and arms again and apply the cold cream as before directed.—Jenness Miller's Monthly.

A hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a state of constant irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to chronic bronchitis. No prompt remedy can be found than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effect is immediate and the result permanent.

A Commissioner in R.R.

GENTLEMEN.—Having used Hagar's Pectoral Balsam in our family for years I have no hesitation in saying that it beats everything else we ever tried for coughs and colds in children as well as grown up people. It relieves that tight binding sensation in the chest. We would not be without it for anything, as we have a large family.

FALDING AND PREVOST.

Arrest of the Westminster Defaulter—Unauthenticated Rumors as to the Latter.

William Henry Falding, Westminster's absconding registrar, was not arrested until 9:50 last evening, when the Chief of Police at Spokane made him a prisoner on the charge of embezzlement—although the St. Paul police wired as early as Saturday afternoon that they had him located in that city. Why they did not arrest him is not easily understood, but they did not, and he was on his way westward when the Spokane official stepped in.

Step by step the provincial police have followed by wire the trail of the departed official. It was ascertained on the day that the warrant was issued that he had on the 23rd bought a ticket at Vancouver for St. Paul, and had started East in one of the C.P.R. parlor cars. On Saturday it was ascertained that on the very day inquiries were first made for him he had arrived in the Minnesota city.

"We have him located here with relatives," wired the St. Paul Chief of Police, "instruct us."

Of course Superintendent Hussey telegraphed to arrest at once, hold and search for money.

Then came a long wait and then—yesterday—the word that the bird had slipped and would have to be again located. The Pinkertons were called in at this stage of the chase, and from them it was learned that Falding had changed his route and doubled back from St. Paul, buying a Spokane ticket at that city on Saturday.

Yesterday was spent in following the train on which he was a passenger, by the wire—both by the Pinkertons from St. Paul and by Superintendent Hussey from this end of the line.

It was only a question of where he would be intercepted, and the looked for intimation of his arrest was received before midnight from Spokane, where the arrest was made by Chief Mertz in person.

Late last night a wire was sent that officer asking him to ascertain if Falding would or would not waive the formality of extradition. In any event a British Columbia officer will be sent to Spokane at once to accompany him back to this province.

As to J. C. Prevost, nothing more is known for a certainty, although rumors of his whereabouts are as thick as good resolutions on New Year's day. A letter to the COLONIST from Port Townsend yesterday gave the news that he was seen and talked with there on the 28th instant—Wednesday last. The writer of the letter, who signs himself P. Henderson, could not, however, be found on an effort being made to sift the matter, and the information is discredited in consequence. There is little doubt that Prevost is not far away, and the prospects are all favorable to his speedy apprehension.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL COUNCIL.

The Countess of Aberdeen Presides at a Meeting of the Local Executive.

Yesterday afternoon a special meeting of the executive of the Local Council of Women was held at Government House, Lady Aberdeen presiding. The executive body, which consists of the officers and presidents of each federated society only, were all present. After the business had been disposed of the Countess of Aberdeen congratulated the Council on the marvellous progress made during the ten months of organization, and the success which had crowned their efforts, first in the election of a woman to a position on the school board, where there were needs that only a woman could understand. Then, again, the Council were to be congratulated upon the work done in connection with the Friendly Help Association. As yet they had been unable to organize this branch of the work in Ottawa and Montreal. She urged perseverance in this line of work, pointing out very forcibly the benefits that must result in this direction from concentrated effort. The benefits of manual education in connection with the public schools were laid before the Council, and the Countess advised the ladies to work up public sentiment in favor of this. The province of Ontario had legislated in favor of technical education, so that it was now possible for every school board to have this training in their schools.

The report of the proceedings at the National Council was given and the work generally explained very clearly. The executive was urged to be active in carrying out the resolution in reference to the suppression of impure literature. So many methods had been used for introducing it from the United States that it would be necessary for the committee in charge to be very vigilant and careful to deal only with facts, and in order to counteract this evil and to endeavor to place before the children pure and healthy literature. Other topics were touched upon, such as the length of working hours for girls and women in shops and factories, and women inspectors for factories. The Countess of Aberdeen in closing said the work of the Council had not been generally understood; it was a difficult task to explain, but by its work it had raised an ideal in many directions which had not before been realized. Our Lord Himself had told us of various ways in which the Kingdom of God existed, and then work might be summarized in the words of the Lord Himself—"Thy Kingdom"—that they should aim at this, working with God and for God, helping to work out an ideal in every relation of life.

A vote of thanks was unanimously accorded Lady Aberdeen for the address, after which the company were invited to partake of tea, Lady Aberdeen leading the way to the dining room where a short time was spent; all taking leave of the Countess highly pleased with their reception.

One Bottle Cures.

DEAR SIR.—My little sister Violet woke up frightened one night and was picking her nose very much. She looked as if she would take convulsions, but mamma gave her Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup, and one bottle cured her.

HOLMES' ADMISSION.

He States That the Remains Found in Indianapolis are Those of Howard Pitzel, but Denies the Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—A local paper says Holmes admits that the remains found in the house in Irvington, Indianapolis, are those of Howard Pitzel. This he has told his counsel, Mr. Shoemaker, during the latter's long conference with him in prison. But Holmes says he did not murder the boy, that the crime was committed by another. In Holmes' statements about this phase of the case, the mysterious Hatch comes to the surface again. Holmes believes, so he says, that Howard Pitzel was killed and that Hatch murdered him as he did the girls in Toronto. Holmes claims that when the times comes, and he is anxious that it will come soon, he will be able to prove beyond a doubt that at the time the detectives say Howard was killed he (Holmes) was in Detroit with his wife. Holmes says he has always been suspicious of Hatch and has long suspected him of doing away with the boy.

RIOTING AT FOO CHOW.

An Ecclesiastical Dignitary Denies the Reports.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Archdeacon Wolfe has sent a cablegram to this city stating that reports of riots at Foo Chow, China, are untrue. The Archdeacon probably alludes to the reports of a riot at Foo Chow which were published on August 22. According to these dispatches a mob had attacked the American mission, injured four native scholars and forced the American teacher to take flight.

Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte's library, a unique philological collection of 25,000 volumes, for which his executors have more than once tried to find a purchaser at $200,000, is again offered for sale en bloc.

The new Portuguese Minister to the United States, Ade Siqueira Chedim, is a particularly handsome man of about forty, with very elegant and attractive manners. He speaks English with only a slight trace of accent.
